Minister for Primary Industries and Regional Development Tim Whetstone said the funding announcement was a great boost for the Tatiara and the wider South East area.

"The Bordertown Intermodal development will ensure an efficient and affordable transport and logistics link is developed between wood processing plants and other local industries in the South East of South Australia and international markets," he said.

"By supporting this project the Marshall Liberal Government is helping provide a vital and important economic infrastructure facility for the Tatiara district which will positively benefit the region."

Shield Resources

Local Member for MacKillop Nick McBride said the funding was a welcome boost for the region.

"The South East is well known for its forestry, wood products and primary production, this project opens a door to wider market options for our valuable produce," Mr McBride said.

"The intermodal development will help improve transport logistics between Bordertown, Adelaide and Melbourne providing a significant economic boost and expand rail freight options for the region."

Shield Intermodal Chief Executive Officer Suzie Li was encouraged by the support the Regional Growth Fund.

"The development of the project will not only reinforce the logistics solution for Shield's wood processing plant and other local businesses, but it will also attract more investors to the region to develop processing facilities for agriculture products."

"We believe the development of Bordertown Intermodal will open a new gate to more opportunities and we are proud of being part of the whole picture."

ST PAT'S: Local band Shamrock will proudly perform Irish music on St Patrick's Day, March 17.

A touch of the Irish in Tatiara

LOCAL band Shamrock is celebrating St Patrick's Day with an afternoon of Irish music in Bordertown.

Shamrock band member Rose Milton said the group was extremely excited to provide the community of the Tatiara with an afternoon of Irish entertainment.

"St Pat's Day this year is on Sunday March 17," she said.

"We thought the afternoon would be perfect to celebrate our love of the Irish with a concert. The venue, Bells Garden, is one of our favourites, as it has such a relaxing and serene ambience."

"We are raising money toward our Rotary project of building some classrooms for the Sri Lankan school which we have visited twice so far. As part of our fundraising, members of our Rotary club held a fabulous banquet and auction fundraiser last year."
